

Wedding Music at St. Anthony

The following policies for music in Catholic wedding liturgies at St. Anthony Church have been created based on documents of the Bishops Committee on the Liturgy (BCL): Music in Catholic Worship and Liturgical Music Today. These are parallel to the liturgical policies in place at the Diocesan Office of Worship of St. Cloud.

1. Music will be chosen with the consultation of the Director of Music and Liturgy. All music chosen for the wedding must be sacred in nature. Secular pop, rock or country songs will not be allowed.
2. St. Anthony has trained vocalists, accompanists and instrumentalists (organ, piano, guitar, violin and cello) who are regular parish musicians. They are experienced in the liturgy and can provide you with quality music acceptable for Catholic wedding liturgies. Outside musicians are only allowed upon approval of the Director of Music and Liturgy. At least one musician from St. Anthony must be used because they are familiar with the space, instruments, sound system and order of St. Anthony wedding liturgies. If outside musicians are used in addition, they must be familiar in Catholic liturgy and have served as a regular accompanist/cantor.

GUIDELINES FOR CHOOSING MUSIC FOR CATHOLIC WEDDINGS

As in any celebration, music in a wedding Mass or ceremony is a very important element. It is a most powerful communicator. Great care should, therefore, be taken to choose music that is highly fitting and proper to this holy and sacred occasion. The following guidelines are provided to help you along the road toward achieving the most prayerful and meaningful celebration possible. Questions not answered here may receive further clarification during your wedding music consultation with the liturgist.

(1) Certain music is inappropriate for Church use. Music with no religious significance is not allowed before or during a wedding Mass or ceremony. Though a song or piece of music may be popular on the secular scene, may genuinely speak to you, and be replete with references to love, it nevertheless has no place at divine worship. “What is being brought to expression in a wedding liturgy is the mystery of human love as a covenant relationship. Songs which express the religious dimension of love explicitly, of course, have pride of choice. Songs which imply this religious dimension are also suitable. But a song which denies this dimension either explicitly or implicitly must be avoided at all costs, for it belies the mystery: it is falsehood in liturgy.” MR # 26

Here is a small sampling of songs inappropriate for liturgy:

“All My Life”, “Annie’s Song”, “Because You Love Me”, “Endless Love”, “Evergreen”, “From This Moment”, “I Cross My Heart”, “It’s Your Love”, “Me & You”, “My Heart Will Go On”, “Sunrise, Sunset”, “The Rose”, “Wind Beneath My Wings”, etc....

The songs of the liturgy should express praise of God and speak of the love of the Lord for God's people; songs that focus only on the love of the couple for each other do not express the love of God in the same way. Follow the general rule that just as religious songs are inappropriate at your reception, so popular romantic songs are inappropriate at a religious wedding ceremony.

When choosing music, consider these questions:

- *Is the music appropriate to the liturgy and celebration?
- *Is the music an integral part of a liturgical service whose primary concern is the worship of God?
- *Can you pray the words of the text?

(2) Church regulations require that the "Our Father" be sung or recited by the entire congregation.

(3) The Responsorial Psalm must always be sung and it must be from a musical setting that allows participation from the assembly.

(4) Taped music is not allowed.

(5) Instrumental music:

Instrumental music can be used as prelude music, at the processional and recessional as well as at certain times during the liturgy such as the sign of peace. The "soap opera" wedding is not a good model for the Christian marriage liturgy. For example "Here Comes the Bride" and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" even in their original context have nothing to do with Christian marriage. There are literally thousands of appropriate pieces of instrumental music to choose from; the liturgist can help you in your musical decisions.

Approved Music for Weddings

The following songs are all pre-approved for use during Liturgy. This list is composed of the more popular and well known songs for weddings. It is by no means all inclusive. The Director of Music and Liturgy will assist you with music selection.
